Building Consents Go DIGITAL with New Services

From 27 November Timaru District Council is changing over to a new electronic consenting platform.

The new consenting platform, Simpli, will be used for lodging applications and GoGet will be used for processing and inspecting consents. These new building consenting systems are used in more than half of all councils around the country.

This change is a part of streamlining and increasing the efficiency and accuracy of TDC building consent process as it progresses to an entirely paperless system.

Recently we have created editable forms online, which ensure forms are completed in full, meaning a more consistent process is followed when accepting all information by the building team.

So what does this mean for you?

As of the 27th November 2020, the only way to apply for a Project Information Memorandum (PIM), Building Consent, Amendments, Code Compliance Certificates (CCC) and Certificate of Acceptance (COA) will be via the online Simpli Portal.

No paper/hard copy applications will be accepted after this date.

If you are wanting to apply for a building consent you will need to login to <https://simpli.govt.nz/register>, create a user name and password and then follow the form prompts to submit your project.

Like many types of applications these days, completing a building consent application online is simple and straight forward, but if you are not confident with it yourself you can get another person (eg a designer or builder) that is familiar with this process to apply on your behalf.

Building Advisory staff will be able to assist you if you have any questions.

Important Note

The building team will not be accepting any paper/hard copy applications or information after the 27th November 2020.
