Environment Canterbury (Canterbury Regional Council)	183.173		Oppose	NZPork is concerned with the impact of this definition change on the rule structure proposed in the plan and the lack of clarity as it relates to the variety of buildings used to support primary production and different land use activities that characterise the activity and sensitivity to natural hazards. The pig farming sector is comprised of both indoor and outdoor activity with buildings and infrastructure that reflect the intensity of use, the environment within which the activity is occurring and in some cases mobility of buildings and infrastructure to support farming activity, animal husbandry and welfare needs.	Disallow	In the absence of a comprehensive rule framework that provides a effective and efficient response to sensitive and less sensitive activities the submission should be rejected.
