DISTRICT PLAN

Rural Setback Provision Correction

This is the first cut of the Draft District Plan and we're expecting to refine and correct things in the period following this consultation. In this case the concern over the rural setbacks relates to an error in a plan standard.

The intent of the standard is aimed at managing the adverse effects of new rural industries and factory farming and provides setbacks for new farm infrastructure such as effluent ponds, piggeries and milking sheds from neighbouring houses.

There is no intention to include any setbacks for stock from property boundaries. However, we think it's important that there are setbacks for the more impactful rural activities in order to help protect the amenity of any adjacent residential zoned land or adjoining residents.

The Draft plan is only a first cut non-statutory plan and accordingly it's expected that there will be errors and things that are not right in this version. That is why we are consulting at this stage, and we really welcome people to come to us with any comments or concerns about any of the provisions in the plan.

It's also important to note that the draft provisions only apply to new development, not existing farming activities.

We apologise for any concerns caused by this error.
