

YOU ARE IN A TSUNAMI EVACUATION ZONE

After a long or strong earthquake get out of the blue zone

Move inland or to higher ground out of the blue tsunami evacuation zone

IF

you feel an earthquake that is longer than a minute

you feel an earthquake so strong it's hard to stand up

the sea is behaving strangely or making loud roaring noises

Do not wait for sirens, mobile phone alerts or official warnings - a tsunami could arrive in minutes.

Stay away until you are told it is safe to return.
